

I don't play Sailonline very often but it is always great when I play. I really like the ocean races. They are easier to manage (no coasts, islands, etc..) and sometimes they offer the possibility of different strategies leading to similar results. It is nice to watch it when it happens (did not happen in this race).

The beginning of this race was ok. Outlaw and Ita (I will talk about them because they finished in front of me) chose a better route than me and this initial gap was important during the race. Outlaw was navigating very well and we never had a chance to pass him. He had some problems when he got close to Cape Horn but the gap was big and he did not have to worry about us. I was close to Ita since the beginning. Then , one day we tried different routes and his route was better than mine. He increased the gap and I was not able to reduce it from there on. As our group left the others behind, there were not many boats to worry about. Ghibli was always close to me but the gap was big enough. After Cape Horn, we simply took the boats to the finish line. This part was kind of boring. The end result was great. I finished in third position and it is always great to have a top 3 result.
