

Well, the race was fairly simple. I tried to go the shortest way with so few tacks or gybes as possible due to the big perf-loss. It was very close and not much you could do between course changes so I was at the PC all the time. Got through the waypoints at the SE-corner quite well. I ran the whole race a bit faster than VMG, 2-3 dgr and I still wonder what would have been the outcome if I have tacked my last tack one update earlier than I did :)
