

Firstly I want to take my hat off to those sailors who are always leading us, it's nerve wrecking to say the least.

At the start I realised the race would be a race of Good turns as the weather was not going to change and concentration is going to be crucial for a good result. That was the plan and all went well with the start.

Half way I found myself still in the front, then at Lochan Dubh I turned too early and rafa and FR_Reva_Reva went ahead. I managed to pass FR_Reva_Reva when he faulted at Kinloch North by turning late. I don't know how but Lunch was pressing me at this point and I was getting flustered. My home run track shows it.

Well Done rafa, You deserve your First place.
