

Race Report:

Tiree to Cairn of Coli Sprint 2014

This was one of those races that could have been very interesting if the wind direction had cooperated, either an upwind or a dead downwind. Instead we had a constant 90 degree Beam Reaching.

Not much to do other than pick the shorter side of the island and turn the corners as close as possible. It was a test of your ability to count the boat hops and time when to hit "Send Command". I was "late" by a fraction of a fraction of a second on one of the last corners and lost the race to "Lou", who evidently hit all the corners perfectly.

Congrats "Lou", great win !

Antonio, "zero" / September 2014
