

The race start was a bit too early for me, 5 am local time, but somehow I found myself and cup of hot tea next to a computer. At the beginning the fleet was divided into two different routes, which, however, were equally fast on to the first mark. I made first little mistake at the TCS1 but I did get good angle to the next mark. Next mark went quite well, and I saw karriv made a little bigger mistake and I managed to overtake him. Long downwind course went ok but rounding that last mark/island I managed to make a couple of "late turns". And as we know there is no room for mistakes in race like this. But in the end, I somehow could keep sailing well and keep Dingo behind me.

Excellent race bonknhoot and Tyger! Wd top10! The race was very nice and I enjoy it.

And I wasn't even late into work . . . much :-)

-Windy autumn to you all !
