

My result is mainly a surprise for my. It was my first race after about two years pause on Sailonline.org. And it was a short distance race. I prefer longer races where is the place for tactics. The question was, How to pass Neuwerk to port or starboard. I betted on a longer route, but better wind and I sailed north. During passing the island Neuwerk I had rank 6. After then it was just better. In this sprint wasn't place for mistakes.

Congratulations for all, it was narrow victory.

I am very happy!

CZE Xray / November 2014