

It was an interesting race.

From the start it was clear that the master Kenza was leading and the first day I tried to put my boat in front, but it was always very difficult.

On the second day of navigation, for various commitments I could not follow but I saw that came forward two other great champions: Lou and Neuroman.

I tried before the descent to the south to go along to be able to have more speed but Kenza made a maneuver to cover .. that was the only time when I hoped to be able to get past, but you know he is a great racer.

The last night I got up in time to make the mark, but Kenza was unreachable ... congratulations to him that he did a great race and I'm sorry for Lou that he deserved the podium anyway rose on the podium one more Italian: Neuroman "ALL GOOD HARD TO KEEP FOREVER"!

Thank you all
