

HA ! my first win on a complete series !

Again, thxs to the whole team behind the Sim!

OK..first race was as described by others..smooth and easy from the start, then a decision to go south, or north. I was in doubt, and that was a bad move. Result? a few -#. But not bad in the end..

Second race was a very interesting one.... That I lost by again gambling for the lower route but a very nice battle with Rafa, PetrM and Bonk in the end. Def worth the play and game!

Third race was the best one, and very well for the overall ranking.

4th one, well, ita did not leave the harbour, and Kenza is only recently a member☺. A crucial point for the total ranking, but so be it. So the only thing i had to do was stay close to the leader or even lead, and keep petrM behind me.

Now, after the first round blue was entering the arena. And I was surprised most players stayed rather high north, instead of going south and make a wider turn.. Then looking at the wx, the next goal was to pass the last rounding before petrM. Since after that ,the wx was in favour for those in front. The good thing was that rumskib was on my tail, and was pushing & pushing. Me got nervous, made → errors, but smelling series victory. Got some sailing lessons from that chase, so thank you rumskib.

Then I only had to look at kenza doing a very smooth sail, and keep the rest of my back, but again, the wx was in favour of those in front.

Again, being a landlubber ,a newbie , but a fanatic gamer, I 'm rather delighted with this series victory !

And, to make a long story even longer :
