

Again the Timed races had in common the almost certainty that there would be a better window towards the end of the opening time. Many boats did only one run, waiting patiently for that window to open.

Being able to choose the perfect start time had become more and more impossible, due to the course's shape and variety of factors. For this reason the quarter has been secured again through consistent results. Kenza got the Q3 with three results in top five, including one victory. The rest of us were permitted only to fight for the remaining top 10 spots in the rankings.

bonknhoot and rafa secured the remaining spots on the Timed Q3 podium
