

Race Report - ROBINSON CRUSOE 2019 - WINSTON_4

Not very much to say about a Sprint that promised to be VERY quick and turned out to be VERY slow and quite difficult.

I started because I had a nice slot of time to dedicate to the corners around the island. Furthermore, when I saw that we would have gone through a giant shift just before the finish line, I felt like the Poker player when he sees plenty of gold in the middle of the table and says :”The dish is rich and in it I ditch” !!!!

Slow but technical I decided I had a chance to fight for an honorable spot

During the last 30 minutes or couple of miles I invested all my money in betting that rafa had the race.....
I could not believe possible to hold some of the 6 cents of a mile I had versus an opponent who was coming down in increasing breeze and some 15/20 degrees better angle than mine. I was very happy with my second spot (in these days a top ten to enable myself to self-send a certificate at year's end is enough ...LOLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLL)

It turned out that I was wrong and capable in my lane to hold that little glitch of advantage that counts when one cuts the finish lineI had to admit publicly in chat: “perhaps I do not understand this game any longer“ ... and I am serious about it still now do not understand , but I accept the results as good start for a 2019 that will see me again in Sabbatical time, but often ready to thrust the pinky boat in the melee.

Till next one !!!!! Piero ;))
