

First of all, I need to thank you all for the incredible effort you are putting in this "game"!

I discovered sailonline some years ago, then for some time I stopped the virtual sailing for the real one. As of today I'm sitting idle at home and I wanted to sail again so I checked and the A3 2020- Leg 3 - Hobart to Sydney was there waiting! Fantastic course!

What a fantastic improvement you made in the interface!!! From the old one I was used to I found many new features, all very nice and helpful! Unfortunately, I'm sorry to say that even with the extra feature my performance was quite poor, but that's just my fault!!! I pretend it's just because I try to steer all by myself with the added limit of sleeping all night and doing other things during the day... Otherwise... :-)

Anyway, the race was nice. Only one question: how can you set the races so accurately that important decisions are to be taken during the nights (Italian time)???

I was happy to find SOLers that I saw in my previous races and new ones, but I'm sorry AGage is not here to take Line of Honour; I remember he was quite good.
See you at the next one!
