SOL RACE RECORD

SOL's Orange 125 was the second of the two Orange catamarans that challenged for the Jules Verne Trophy. Both held the associated non-stop RTW record, but Orange II as she was called, under the command of Bruno Peyron, managed to knock 13 days off the record in 2007, getting round in a mere 50 days 16 hours and 20 minutes! Since then, the record time has fallen further, but Orange II's run was a game changer.

SOL was quick and got its hand on its very own Orange 125 in 2010, since when she has set records on many virtual seas as well, as can be seen at the link below.
