SOL RACE RECORD

Early in 2011, intrepid SOLer 76Trombones built (the polar for) a Viking longship. It was based on the 30 metres "Havhingsten fra Glendalough", under reconstruction at the Viking Ship Museum in Roskilde at the time, and SOL named her "Longship Drake". After her launch, a year later in 2012, she was first raced on SOL in commemoration of the infamous Raid on Lindisfarne of 793 AD.

"Longship Drake" was floated out of the SOL Boathouse again in 2016 in order to virtually race against the "Draken Harald Hårfagre" - a 35 metre longship built in Haugesund in Norway a year after the "Havhingsten" was completed - in the epic voyage of the "Harald" from Haugesund to Greenland, Canada and the USA.
