

Charlton Island RTI Sprint 2024

CriticalHippo

A rare sprint where I was able to be at home for the full race. I knew when Mirek didn't start I had a chance to win. :D

I used QT on the two longest legs to get me a slightly better path than a straight line. On the first leg this put me a bit north of most of the fleet (see screenshot) and I was in first place rounding Danby Island.

My two mistakes came rounding Charlton E and Charlton NE. Both places I was slow getting my commands in and turned a server jump too late. I went from .03 nm ahead to 5th place.

I was able to claw my way back over the last two legs. The last leg was a tack-fest where it was difficult to tell who was in the lead (see screenshots). I think I was able to come up with one of the best routes to come within 1 second of Comocean for a second place finish. My first podium in a sprint.
