SOL RACE RECORD

Bruce Farr has been designing racing yachts for a long time; one-offs and for series production. One of his most successful series boats was the Mumm 30, already an inductee in the SOL boathouse as our Farr 30. Another, almost equally successful, was its bigger sister the Farr 40, launched a few years after the 30 in 1996.

A well-run Class Association, insisting on a strict owner-driver rule, a quality one-design build by Carroll Marine, and annual World Championships until the last pre-pandemic year, further drove the class's popularity, and over 160 hulls were launched until production stopped in the early Noughties.

High time, then, that in 2025 we took her out on SOL.
